ONLINE COVER Phosphorescence“which, unlike fluorescence, involves reemission of light on a slower timescale”is used in glow-in-the-dark products, including illuminating emergency signs. It is also used for information storage purposes such as stamp detection. Easier and less expensive fabrication methods for phosphorescence systems have been created via organic emitters but achieving ...

The history of structural engineering dates back to at least 2700 BC when the step pyramid for Pharaoh Djoser was built by Imhotep, the first engineer in history known by name. Pyramids were the most common major structures built by ancient civilizations because it is a structural form which is inherently stable and can be almost infinitely scaled (as opposed to most other structural forms ...

Process analytical technologies (PAT) for the manufacturing of biologics have drawn increased interest in the last decade. Besides being encouraged by the Food and Drug Administration's (FDA's) PAT initiative, PAT promises to improve process understanding, reduce overall production costs and help to implement
